

AUTHOR INFORMATION FOR PAPER SUBMISSION

All paper submissions should be done electronically only through EasyChair. Use the following link to submit your papers: <https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=imarc2017>. The link is available on the IMaRC 2017 Website.

Hardcopy submissions or e-mail attachment submissions will not be accepted. Papers submitted to IMaRC 2017 will be peer-reviewed and papers must be written in English. Registered authors will receive an electronic storage medium containing the Proceedings of IMaRC 2017 conference. Furthermore, all papers presented at IMaRC 2017 will be included for publication in IEEE Xplore.

Conference will offer Best Student Paper Award and IMaRC Award. Award winners will receive cash and certificate.

Authors may opt for oral or poster sessions. However, the TPC chairs will make the final decision. Poster sessions, including electronic and interactive features, are planned as an attractive forum for information exchange and discussions between authors and participants.

When submitting your work, please choose only the most relevant subcommittee (SC) from the following list: (Please note that SC11 is allocated for the invited authors only.)

SC1: Low-Noise/High-Power Amplifier Techniques
SC2: RF Building Block Circuits and Components
SC3: Signal Generation and Frequency Conversion
SC4: Receiver/Transmitter/Transceiver Techniques
SC5: Filters
SC6: Transmission Lines/Couplers
SC7: Microwave/Millimeter-wave/THz Systems
SC8: Microwave Semiconductor Device and Modeling
SC9: Active Antennas/MIMO Techniques/Phased Arrays
SC10: Numerical Methods and Optimization
SC11: Invited/Focus Topics (by invitation only)

The technical program committee of IMARC 2017 invites prospective authors to submit original papers on all areas of microwave and RF technology. However, please note that papers substantially outside the above topics or not following the manuscript preparation submission guidelines below are liable to be rejected without a review.

Manuscript Preparation & Submission Guidelines

- Authors must submit the Manuscript of their paper on or before July 16, 2017. This is a firm deadline and no extensions will be possible.
- Paper submissions should be done electronically only through EasyChair.
- IEEE two-column format specified in the template must be followed, or your submission will be rejected.
- The complete manuscript including text, figures, tables, and references, should be in 3 or 4 pages. Manuscript should be submitted as a PDF file.
- Discuss about the related publications in the introduction of your paper and distinguish the new results in your current manuscript from those found in previous publications (including yours).

- During the submission, choose one of the Sub-Committees listed above based on the contents of your paper.
- Submissions have to be done separately for each paper, not for each author. Author(s) can submit two or more different papers separately. However, additional registration is required for students presenting more than one paper (oral/poster) and other participants presenting more than two papers (oral/poster).
- Key words should be entered in the paper Submission page. Author(s) should enter the abstract of the paper (between 50 and 75 words) separately while submitting a paper to the on-line Paper Submission System.
- It is the policy of the IEEE to own the copyright to the technical contributions it publishes. To comply with the IMaRC 2017 copyright policy, authors are required to sign a Copyright Form before publication.
- An E-mail will be sent to the corresponding author as soon as the submission is completed. If you don't receive the E-mail within 24 hours, please contact the IMaRC 2017 (Email: arunkumar.singh@outlook.com or madihian@ieee.org) with the submission details of your paper.
- Papers will be evaluated on the basis of originality, content, clarity, and relevance to the IMaRC 2017.
